ABOLITION GEOGRAPHIES OF NEW YORK | ASHLEY DAWSON

In this Design Matters lecture, particularly focused on urban sites where state violence against racialized populations and climate injustices intersect, Ashley Dawson, Professor of English at the Graduate Center / City University of New York and the College of Staten Island, will address the following questions:

- What political openings exist for abolition today?
- How might we think of abolition as an intersectional discourse that can reshape today's extreme cities?
- How can we expand Ruth Wilson Gilmore's important concept of abolition geographies beyond policing and the carceral?
